

KLWagner's Ancestor Circles

The following pages show a snippet view of my 428 Ancestor Circles. (as of 26 Sep 2008) These charts contain info on 6672 of my ancestors.

All 428 Ancestor Circles sit on my desk in five 3-ring binders. If I printed on both sides, it would be half of that!

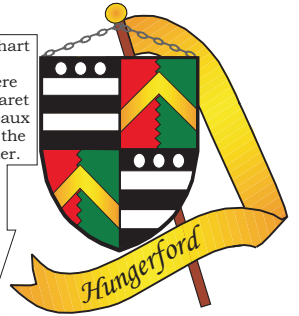

I use a genealogy database program and my Ancestor Circles charts together. If I find an addition or correction, I can quickly mark the chart. When I have time, I make the addition or correction to my database, then mark the chart addition/correction as completed. Again, when I have time, I print a new version of that chart. It is so much easier to research when I have all the info right in front of me and I don't have to click between my database and the internet.

Note: The colored dots are decorative and functional (helps when following a surname history). The 3 letter and a number combo is my reference code for each ancestor.
